YES! Evelyn Thaw Was Worth Saving

Was Evelyn Thaw worth saving? The following letters, taken from hundreds received by the AMERICAN, express an opinion favorable to Evelyn, believing that she WAS worth saving:

"No Woman Is Too Low to Save."

Was Evelyn Thaw worth saving? Yes. No woman is too low to be saved. I have read the Thaw case from the start, and when I heard that Mrs. Thaw, after all that Evelyn Thaw Thaw I felt very much ashamed of my self. I have been in the delectable world and have met and seen all kinds of human beings, women good and otherwise, but I have yet to hear and see a woman who has stooped so low to be saved. If a woman is poor and a man like Walter offers her gold, her riches, and so forth, she must be strong to force herself to not let (Signed) A TRAVELER.

"There Were Ninety and Nine."

What is the old hymn about the "ninety and nine" that were safe in the fold and the shepherd going out alone on the mountains in the bitter cold to save the one lost lamb? I am to believe, Evelyn Thaw, that from that. But I believe, despite the old hymn, that any soul is worth saving, no matter to what degree of sin it may have sunk.

ATTORNEY JOHN P. DUFFY,
Corney Building, Tremont Street,
Portland (Me.) Woman Writes.
I have been married ten years and when I read what Mrs. Thaw's story about Evelyn Thaw, I actually shuddered. I wouldn't see her anywhere could be so uncharitable. Of course Evelyn is worth saving, and she and her little boy are entitled to the sympathy of every Christian man and woman.

SIDE 2. L. MARTIN.

"My Heart Goes Out to Evelyn."

Dear Evelyn, to think that with all her other troubles and tribulations she would have also to bear the stigma of this narrow and short-sighted people. Evelyn should be saved and aided in every possible way. My best regards go to her.

MRS. M. E. JONES.
Kilworth, Me.

"READY FOR NEW SACRIFICE TO SAVE HARRY"—EVELYN THAW

I Will Help Harry, But He Must Ask Me

—Evelyn.
There is nothing to all this world I would not do to help Harry if he would come to me and make the request—Evelyn Thaw in an interview with the BOSTON AMERICAN.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—"There are many ways in which I could help Harry, just as I have done before. Some day he will realize that and come to me asking my help."

This declaration was made by Evelyn Thaw after she was asked if by any chance the attorney for Harry Thaw should call her to appear as a witness for him in his efforts to obtain his freedom.

"He Must Ask Me."

"There is nothing to all this world I would not do to help Harry if he would come to me and make the request," continued Mrs. Thaw.

"He realizes that I have sacrificed everything in the past for his happiness, and anyone that would go so far as I have gone for him would not quit until they had won a complete victory."

"Do you believe that you could help Harry in any material way in his fight for his freedom?"

"Yes, Harry realizes that I can be of great assistance to him, but he refuses to come to me and ask my aid."

But he is not able to make the trip to New York, as he is a prisoner.

Raps Thaw's Lawyers.

"Yes, but there are eye-witnesses of the fact that he could communicate with me."

"Then he has made any attempt to get in touch with his high-priced lawyers."

"No, he depends on his high-priced lawyers."

"But why don't you communicate with him if you can be of any assistance?"

"I will never ask or give any assistance to Harry. I will only come to him on his side."

"Would you mind telling the Boston AMERICAN in what way you could help him?"

"I will not discuss that subject with you. I will only say that I stand ready to help him in a way that he knows and he refuses to ask me."

"The just mind you might show letters and telegrams that would show me to prove his sanity?"

"There is no need of questioning me further. I will not say in what way I could help him."

"Would you be satisfied to promise the authorities that you would give your husband if he was given his liberty?"

"I will not answer that question."

Won't Say What She'd Do.

"Would you be satisfied to give your husband and take a trip to Europe in the absence of the authorities giving him his liberty?"

"I refuse to answer that question."

"What way can you believe you might help your husband?"

"I will not say. I will only say that I will show the world that I stand ready to make every sacrifice and do everything in my power to help Harry Thaw to be a free man."

"Why don't you communicate with his mother, Mrs. Mary Thaw?"

"Mrs. Thaw cut off my income more than a year ago and why should I go to her?"

"But she has done all she could to help obtain her son's release."

"My Sacrifice Greater."

"Yes, you all tell stories of how Mrs. Mary C. Thaw has worked and sacrificed for Harry Thaw, but let me tell you that her sacrifice has not been one-half what Evelyn Thaw's has been."

Was Evelyn Nesbit Thaw Worth Saving? NO!

Was Evelyn Thaw worth saving? "No," say many AMERICAN readers, who in their written communications support the contention of Mrs. Thaw that Evelyn Thaw was NOT worth saving. Here are some of the letters.

"I Know the man I would not try to save a woman like Evelyn Thaw."

I know many such, and they are worthless. I agree with Mrs. Thaw. SHERO A. NILES.

Shares Mrs. Thaw's Views.

I do not see that any great effort is being made at the present time to save her. That seems to show the weakness and cowardice of the Boston AMERICAN.

"She Is Not Worth Saving."

Of course, Evelyn is not worth saving. With every soul she was worth saving, with Mrs. Thaw's money she was not. I have a child who has gone the same path and I don't think she is worth trying to save after what she has made him do.

Agrees With Mrs. Thaw.

I am a supporter with Mrs. Thaw's views. I have decided to do what I can to help her.

Evelyn. She has for years been the first name in the delectable world. She has long since passed the point where she was once and ever after known to be high.

"Evelyn Is to Blame for All."

Why blame Evelyn? If Harry had not killed her, she would have been in the same state. I don't see that any great effort is being made at the present time to save her.

Agrees With Mrs. Thaw.

I am a supporter with Mrs. Thaw's views. I have decided to do what I can to help her.

worth saving. Of course, making the statement questionable, as she did who was never a little too far. But what else could be expected? I am not a supporter of the effort to save Evelyn Thaw. In a great deal more effective. In other words, while Evelyn Thaw was "worth" saving, she ought, if he was to be saved, to be saved.

GET IN LINE FOR THAT BIG $1,000 PRIZE!

By THE CONTEST EDITOR.

We can promise you now that the AMERICAN'S new Picture Puzzle Contest, which starts Monday, September 23, will not be tiresome, but, on the contrary, you will find the competition all too short.

It will be conducted upon entirely new and different lines. There will be no guide books to buy, nothing to spend, and no prize to win.

The plan of the contest is simple, but its scope is wide. How it is to be conducted will be explained in the first issue of the contest, which will be published on Monday, September 23.

The winners of this newspaper who are the most successful in solving the eighty-five titles will receive $1,000 each offered by the Boston AMERICAN. A glance at the prize list will convince you that this splendid cash offer is well worth your effort.

Food Crisis by Year 2000 Is Prophesied

BIRMINGHAM, Dec. 12.—A crisis in the world's food supply, brought on by the wheat average not keeping pace with the increase in population, will come before the year 2000. This is the prediction of Professor H. S. Giddens, of the University College, made at the annual meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science resumed today.

HEAD ITCHED AND BURNED

Dandruff Could Be Seen Plainly in Hair and on Coat Collar. Lots of Hair Fall Out. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured in Four Weeks.

713 Dudley St., Dorchester, Mass.

"My trouble began with dandruff. It caused me much trouble and after a while my hair began falling out. The dandruff could be seen very plainly in my hair and also on my coat collar. It itched my head and was very annoying. I tried many things but nothing seemed to help. Every time I combed my hair I lost a great deal of hair.

"I tried—and two other remedies without success. I suffered almost two years until I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Then I got a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I was relieved. I used it. Then I got a full-sized box of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and in four weeks I was all cured."

(Signed) James Mahoney, May 1, 1913.

For genuine and backache the following is the most effective and economical treatment: Gently remove the affected parts with Cuticura Ointment, on the end of the finger, but do not rub. Wash off the Cuticura Ointment in five minutes with Cuticura Soap and hot water and continue bathing for some time. This treatment is best on itching and scaling. At other times use Cuticura Soap freely for the toilet and bath, to soothe and prevent inflammation, itching and itching of the pores. Cuticura Soap (25c) and Cuticura Ointment (50c) are sold throughout the world. Liberal samples of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postpaid "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

See when you shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap that it is best for skin and scalp.

GLOUCESTER FIRE CAUSES $35,000 LOSS

GLOUCESTER, Sept. 12.—Fire from unknown cause in the bakery of N. M. Johnson, Washington street, today destroyed two buildings and a stable, damaged four nearby stores and scattered two others, and resulted in three horses being burned to death before extinguished after a $35,000 loss.

In fighting the flames, Marvin Shankleford and Frank Davis of English St. were cut by flying glass, but not badly injured. Several persons asleep in the building had close calls from suffocation. Among those who suffered loss from the fire were: Charles O'Malley, Thomas C. Mather, Henry Duggan and Della Foley. Johnson also lost an automobile. He had $12,000 in a safe in his office. The money was saved.

Capital Courts Get Case of 'Wolf' Metamorphosis

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The case against David Lamm, "The Wolf of Wall Street," arrested at the instance of Attorney General McPherson, will be left pending in the hands of the local courts, according to statements made by the department of justice today. Upon the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia will fall the weight of the long and arduous extradition which Lamm is expected to make when he is brought before the court. Today, September 17, Metropolitan Police, who are in custody on $2,000 bail, will formally be delivered to the court. It is expected that his removal will make a better job against his removal to New York.

Boy Scouts Find Missing Man's Body

LOWELL, Sept. 12.—Eugene C. Vail, missing since August 21, was found dead in the woods near Cambridge by a detachment of the Boy Scouts of that village. Mr. Vail was thirty-seven years old and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Margaret Vail of this city. He had been engaged in the Cambridge Steel Works at Newton, Pa., but was supposed to be in the city on account of ill health and to be in the company of a friend. It was his custom to go to the factory in the morning and to the city in the afternoon. His parents have been making inquiries for him since August 21.

Hides Hungry Forty Days.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 12.—John Robertson, the patient in the State Hospital for the insane, taken from the hospital when he had fasted for forty days with water, took a look at his condition today. He is now in the hospital, and his condition is such that he will be released on July 21, next.

Woman's Dress Is Undermining Race, Says Dr. Landis

The dress worn by women is responsible in a degree for the influences undermining the race. The social evil is the menace of the twentieth century. To regain our lost estate, we must get back to nature. We must cultivate health instead of disease.—Dr. J. E. Landis, "American Health Officer," before the American Public Health Association at Colorado Springs.

Bumper Potato Crop in Maine

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—While potatoes will not be a drag on the market this year, consumers need not fear that there will not be enough to meet the demands. In a special report today on the potato outlook, L. C. Corbett of the department of Agriculture declared that while the total harvest will be less than last year, it will be sufficient to supply normal demands.

Indications are that Maine will produce the largest crop ever recorded, while Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota will harvest a normal crop. The total, in Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York and Ohio promise to be light.

NEW SALISBURY BEACH TOWN IS BEING PLANNED

SALISBURY BEACH, Sept. 12.—Many of those who submitted in the town have held an informal meeting today and agreed to build on a new Salisbury Beach. A city promoter, whose capital was advanced.

The beach town will be laid out with electric lights and various other new improvements.

Wednesday Is Date of Miller Trial

CHARLES W. Miller, the postmaster of the Lagrange street saloon, who is charged with shooting Ralph Sisk in "Kerry Village" the morning of June 12, will appear before Judge Lane next Wednesday for trial on a charge of manslaughter.

Edison Ill Again.

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Sept. 12.—Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, is still suffering from the cold contracted while working in New England.

2 Islands Vanish in Earthquake

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—Falcon and Hays Islands of the Friendly or Tonga group, in the South Pacific, have disappeared from view. With them several hundred natives and a few white men also have disappeared.

News in this effect was brought to San Francisco by Captain J. R. Zook of the steamship Sigsbee, which arrived from Sydney, via Pago Pago and Honolulu, Captain Zook said. The islands, which several aerial stationers had taken years.

Vermont's Man Will Reveals Fortune

BURLINGTON, Vt., Sept. 12.—The will of Charles B. Matherly was today left to the Probate Court and showed a fortune of a quarter of a million of dollars. He leaves many public bequests to local hospitals and homes for aged women. At the time of his death of his wife the residue of his estate is to be spent for the erection of a home for aged women.

U. S. Buys Its Steel Cheaper in England

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The contract for the turbine drums for the newest American battleships have been awarded the Columbia Steel and Iron Works, Limited, England, valued at $2,450,000. The contract was made at $27,450 a ton, a little more than one third the lowest American bidder.

SAY "L" MEN ARE ON OTHER PAYROLLS

To find out if the Elevated Company has on its payroll men who do not give their entire services to the company, was the object of Attorney John P. Feeney's cross-examination of J. Henry Neal, add-on for the "L" today at the hearing before the arbitrators in Ford Hall.

Proceeding the hearing Attorney Feeney asked a general question for the Elevated, London Attorney Feeney a long list setting forth a comparison between the working hours, wages and number of men employed in 1909 and at the present time.

Under cross-examination Mr. Neal said that Mr. Matherly, a consulting engineer, received a salary from the company, but did not give his entire time to the corporation. Mr. Matherly also to the corporation. Mr. Neal said that the morning of June 12, 1913, Professor Albert S. Bittor, a financial expert, draws a salary from the "L" as well as several other men, it was stated.

Fall Coats

Boston men never had such a fine stock of Fall Overcoats to choose from as you'll now find hanging in the wall cases just inside our door.

There are blacks and oxfords and soft-toned grays, with a goodly sprinkling of fancy patterns.

Some lined with serge, some with silk—some have the ultra-rich velvet collar—some are cut in the newest double-breasted style. But whatever the cut or color, you can bank on it that the one you pick out will be a splendid value for the money—that's the only kind of value to be found in this store.

TODAY'S STOCK MARKET

SEN. PHILLIP J. MCGONAGLE OF BOSTON.

This is one of those noble Democratic Senators who served the Railroad monopoly not wisely but too well. With eight other Democratic members of the Senate he voted for the Western Trolley Merger Bill which gave the New Haven monopoly control of the street railways in more than half of Massachusetts.

During his campaign he stood upon the Democratic party platform which said: "WE ARE OPPOSED TO THE OWNERSHIP OR CONTROL OF OUR STREET RAILWAYS BY STEAM RAILROADS AND BELIEVE THAT IT SHOULD GO FARTHER IN THIS COMMONWEALTH."

How he kept this solemn pledge to the people, the people may judge from his vote. He voted for the Western Trolley Merger Bill in spite of the warnings of the Tax Commissioner, the Railroad Commission, the Public Franchise League, the Boston Chamber of Commerce, the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

If this Senator had served the people who elected him instead of the lawdefying, man-killing, stock-jobbing New Haven monopoly, he might be returned with honor to the Senate, but NOW a vote for this man at the primaries is a vote to tie the milstone of the New Haven monopoly around the neck of Lieutenant-Governor Walsh, the Democratic candidate for Governor and around every other Democratic candidate in the ticket.

General Hugh Hancock, chairman of the Boston Port Directors, left for Europe today on the Hamburg-American liner Cleveland, to obtain ideas helpful in the development of the port of Boston and in the construction of the new $20,000,000 drydock here.

"I shall be gone three weeks," he said, "and my only vacation will be while I am on the water going and coming. The rest of the time I shall be getting ideas in the development of the port of Boston and in the construction of the new $20,000,000 drydock here."

With General Hancock were Mr. Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Crockett and Mrs. Crockett. They will be accompanied by General Hancock's family and will serve port works of a glaucous nature going on in Hamburg, Liverpool and London.

...trocious and hideous cruelties
...have been inflicted upon some of ...the noblest women living upon the ...earth at the present time.

Yet those things did no drive
the women to crime.

The time of Parliament belongs to the government of the day—all save a few hours in a week.
Parliament has over and over again, by enormous majorities, carried a woman suffrage bill through its second reading. The committee stage comes next. The committee stage takes more time.
The government has refused to give the time. A majority of the House of Commons, a majority of the Cabinet, favor woman suffrage.
Asquith, as head of the government, refuses time to enable Parliament to carry out its own wishes.

Yet these things did not drive
the women to crime.

Asquith committed himself to a great suffrage measure—but it was for men.

There has been for some years an agitation for the amendment of the Franchise and Registration.
I took part in it myself. Millions of men are without the vote in England. Asquith undertook to remedy this state of things. But the demands of the women were ignored.

Mrs. Pankhurst and the women who follow her could bear no more.

They had borne indecent assault, imprisonment, the atrocities of forcible feeding; some of them had suffered unto blood, but this last insult, the enfranchisement of unfranchised men, on whose behalf there has been only slight sporadic agitation and the denial to them of the few days of the parliamentary time which would have enabled the House of Commons to carry its own wishes and give them the vote they claimed, seemed to them the last indignity, the cruellest and cowardliest assault of all.

Cannot Defend Them

When They Do Wrong

And they resorted to violence.

Here I part company from them.
They have committed assaults.
They have resorted to fire. They have employed dynamite. They have attacked the innocent as well as the guilty, the openly sympathetic friend as well as the indifferent person or the avowed opponent of their cause.

I cannot be a party to wrongdoing.

While they were willing to suffer wrong, I applauded them.
When they begin to do wrong, it is impossible to longer defend them. It is not right to do wrong.
Bloodshed and crime, the torch, gunpowder and dynamite are not the weapons which I care to women employ—or men either—in advocacy of a mighty moral movement in the dawn of the Twentieth Century.

"Militancy" in England first meant a policy of "pestering" recommended by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, when the first minister of the British Crown. It involved suffering. And I defended the women. But is there need in America for even such "militancy" as that?

"Militancy" in England now means arson, train-wrecking and murderous assaults. If it is suggested that the women of America should adopt it as a policy I say that nothing can excuse the irra-tionality of the suggestion, and nothing can palliate its crime.

Unsympathetic Protest Not a Hostile One

I mention these things for the purpose of showing that mine is an unsympathetic protest and not a hostile one.

I have been driven into ir-rascity and they have been driven into crime. And the guilt is on the men who have driven them rather than theirs.

Late Prime Minister of Britain, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, told them to presided over by Pankhurst, and my fellow Pankhurst, Israel Zangwill and Snowden. Up to a certain point the "militant" movement led by the side of these women and spent time and money on their behalf.

It is the custom in England to ask questions in political meetings. The process is known as "heckling." After Campbell-Bannerman's advice the women began to attend public meetings and they asked questions. Their interruptions angered the men; they were thrown out of the meetings with violence, they were mauled by blackguards. They continued to go to meetings and to interrupt.
The violence grew. Filthy scound-rels offered themselves as "stewards." That is to say as "chuck-ers-out" at meetings for the opportunity it gave them of committing indecent assaults upon women and girls in the act of carrying them and bundling them out of meetings.

The women were prosecuted;
not the roughs. They were charged with all sorts of fancy offences,
